

ROBBERS OF BROWN STORES CAPTURED BY SHERIFF NEU

Instruments With Which Thieves Forced Entrance To Stores Found On Prisoners Taken By Neighbor Sheriff.

Georgetown, Ohio, March 4. — The two men Sheriff Neu and Deputy John Earl Neu placed under arrest at the edge of Winchester, about 9 o'clock Tuesday morning, were making an effort to reach an alley in hopes of making their escape. They had left the Winchester-Sardinia pike and were on what is better known as the old fair grounds. The officers had made several commands for them to stop. Then Sheriff Neu fired his revolver, the larger man stating that the bullet struck in the ground near them and he and his companion thought it was time to surrender.

They were placed in the automobile and brought to Georgetown, where they were locked in the county jail.

The night before seven business places at Sardinia had been broken into and robbed. Tuesday morning, when Charles Jacobs, entering his store, found his stock had been rummaged, the cash register wrecked and what it contained stolen, he gave the alarm and then the discovery was made that other places had been robbed. It was found that all the doors had been forced by the use of an instrument, which later was found upon the men. It proved to be a chisel and a short piece of piping, which had worked without failure.

A conductor upon an N. & W. freight train gave a tip that he had seen two men a short distance out of Sardinia, upon the Winchester pike and going in that direction. Jacobs sent word to Sheriff Neu and he and his deputy, upon reaching Sardinia, lost no time in taking the trail, with the results stated above.

SHERIFF WARNS ALL DOG OWNERS WHO HAVEN'T PAID TAXES

Representative of Agricultural Department Here and Sheriff Galbreath Issues Warning To Delinquents.

In the report of the County Clerk, J. J. Owens, to the Agricultural Department relative to the collection of the dog tax, this report shows quite a falling off in taxes this year from the two years preceding, and in said report it was recommended by the Clerk that the State Department take it up with the three papers here and urge the owners of dogs to come in and pay their license.

In reply to that communication the State Department sent one of their field men here to look into the matter and see why the owners of dogs had not paid their license, and for the above reason forced the Sheriff to issue the following notice to all owners of dogs that have not paid their license fee on their dogs, which will not only be published in the county press but will also be posted in public places in the county:

NOTICE TO OWNERS OF DOGS.

A representative of the State Department has been to see me in regard to the enforcement of the Dog Tax Law in this county.

You are hereby commanded to have your dog licensed immediately, as the time is now past due and the law compels me to see that this is done with the penalty of forfeiture of my office, so I will be compelled to have a man in every precinct to see after the licensing of dogs and all those that have not had their dogs licensed will be reported and will be prosecuted according to law, which penalty is $100 fine and three months imprisonment, one or both to all owners of dogs having no license.

You can apply to the County Court Clerk in person or send by mail the breed, sex, age and color of your dog, with the accompanying fee of $1 for the first male dog and $2 for each additional male dog, and a fee of $2 for the first female dog, and $4 for each additional female dog, and there is no limit to the age of the dog, as the ruling of the Attorney General is that a dog is a dog as soon as it is whelped. It will be the duty of the grand jury to investigate all violators of the dog law, so have your dog licensed immediately and avoid trouble.

C. E. GALBREATH, Sheriff Mason County.

INVENTIVE SCIENCE HELPS HARDING INAUGURAL ADDRESS

The inaugural crowd which President Harding faced could hear his message perhaps better than at any inaugural in the history of the nation. This was due to the wonders of modern invention.

A series of electrical amplifiers were installed under the inaugural stand—shown under construction here—which made the address plainly audible to every person in the crowd, no matter if they were thousands of feet away.

On the right is G. L. Wells, engineer, holding one of the amplifiers, the greatest "loud talker" yet invented, and which it is claimed intensifies sound one thousand billion billion times.

BUSTER BROWN AND TIGER HERE FOR TOMORROW

The famous Buster Brown and his equally famous dog, Tiger, will be in Mayville tomorrow for the entertainment of the kiddies of this section and incidentally to explain the merits of the famous Buster Brown shoes, which are sold exclusively in this district by Merz Brothers.

Special arrangements have been made so that every boy and girl in Mason and adjoining counties can see Buster and Tiger and enjoy their clever antics and a platform will be constructed in Market street in front of the Merz Brothers' shoe store upon which they will entertain the crowd. They will also hold a reception at the Merz Brothers' store and the Boys' Band will make music for them. Preceding the entertainment in Market street at 2 o'clock Buster, Tiger and the band will parade the downtown section.

There's not a boy or girl in Mayville or the county who can afford to miss this opportunity of seeing Buster and Tiger in life. The parade will start about 1:30 Saturday afternoon so be certain to be on time to see and hear it all.

UNITED STATES IS CIVILIZATION'S SAFE-GUARD—HARDING

Warning That America Will Safeguard Civilization Made In President's Inaugural Address.

Washington, March 4. — A solemn warning that America stands ready to resist any attempted reversion of civilization was sounded by President Warren G. Harding in his inaugural address today.

America seeks no part in directing the destinies of the old world, he said, but she is ready to enter an association of nations for conference and counsel which will not impair the sovereignty of the United States.

He declared flatly against permanent military alliances.

"Our eyes never will be blind to a developing menace, our ears never deaf to the call of civilization," he said.

"There was no American failure to resist the attempted reversion of civilization; there will be no failure today or tomorrow," Harding added.

"We shall give no people just cause to make war upon us," he said at another point. "We hold no national prejudices, we entertain no spirit of revenge, we do not hate, we do not covet, we dream of no conquest, nor boast of armed prowess. "If, despite this attitude, war is forced upon us, I earnestly hope a way may be found which will unify our individual and collective strength, and consecrate all America, materially and spiritually, body and soul, to national defense."

"I can vision the ideal republic, where every man and woman is called under the flag for assignment of duty for whatever service, military or civic, the individual is best fitted; where we may call to universal service every plant, agency or facility, all in the sublime sacrifice for country, and not one penny of war profit shall inure to the benefit of private individual, corporation or combination, but all above the normal shall flow into the defense chest of the nation."

The League of Nations was not mentioned, but schemes of "super-government" were denounced unsparingly.

In the County Court this afternoon the inventory and appraisal of the personal estate of James C. Owens, deceased, was filed.

Hospital Sues to Prevent City Collecting Taxes

Hayswood Hospital Asks Perpetual Injunction Against City Preventing Them From Levying or Collecting Taxes on Property.

Suit was brought in the Mason Circuit Court this afternoon by the Hayswood Hospital against the City of Mayville, Ky., and A. M. January, Collector and Treasurer of the City of Mayville, in an attempt to prevent the city from collecting taxes upon the hospital's city property.

The petition in the case as drawn by Worthington, Cochran, Browning & Reed cover several typewritten pages and after naming the various bequests and donations made to the hospital which made it possible for it to be established, the petition says:

"The receipts from patients at plaintiff's hospital have never been sufficient to defray the expenses thereof and to keep up and maintain the hospital, nor it is purpose of plaintiff ever to make it a paying institution. Plaintiff has kept the property, except the hospital building, so given it, after paying for needed improvements and repairs, invested so as to yield an income, to be applied to the making up of the deficiency in its necessary running expenses; in other words as an endowment fund. This fund amounted, on August 28th, 1920, to the sum of $35,175.44."

The petition further states:

"This plaintiff is by virtue of its charter, an institution of purely public charity, and the funds and property above mentioned are held and owned by it for purposes which constitute a purely public charity, and are therefore exempt from taxation under and by virtue of section 170 of the Constitution of Kentucky. This has been expressly so adjudged by this court and by the Court of Appeals of Kentucky in the suit brought by plaintiff against the authorities of Mason county, to enjoin them from assessing or collecting any taxes against them. The opinion of the Court of Appeals in said case is reported in 167 Kentucky 17, under the style of Mason County et. al., vs. Hayswood Hospital, of Mayville."

"Notwithstanding all these facts, the defendant, the City of Mayville, has by its assessing officer, assessed said hospital building for taxation for the year 1920 and the defendant, A. M. January, City Treasurer, has served a notice upon plaintiff that unless it pays taxes and penalties there to the amount of $341.00 on or before March 5th, 1921, he will advertise and sell said property for the payment thereof, on March 30, 1921, which notice is filed herewith marked Exhibit H.

"This claim of defendant of the right to assess and collect taxes on said property is in defiance of the opinion of this court rendered in the suit by plaintiff against County Taxing Officer and of the opinion of the Court of Appeals in 167 Kentucky, page 17. It seriously interferes with the operation of plaintiff's hospital and unless defendants are enjoined from so advertising or selling said property for taxation, they will proceed so to do, to the great and irreparable damage to plaintiff.

"Wherefore, the premises considered, plaintiff prays that plaintiff's said property be adjudged exempt from taxation by the defendant, or any one acting or claiming to act under their authority, an especially under the authority of defendant, the City of Mayville. It prays that defendants and their officers and agents be perpetually enjoined from taking any steps hereafter towards listing or assessing or levying, or selling any portion of plaintiff's property for taxation, and it prays for its costs hereinafter and for all proper relief."

to earnestly and consistently oppose all things that are not for the good of
of the County as a whole.

GREAT RAILROAD MAN PASSES.

In the death of Mr. Milton H. Smith there has been removed one of the great figures in the railway world, a survival from the period when there were giants in the land. Mr. Smith, dying at the ripe age of eighty-four, fell, like a mighty redwood among the trees of a new geological era, and left a wide void which will not soon be filled.

He was the peer in breadth of thought, in clearness of vision, in boldness of imagination, inflexibility of purpose and scope of his plans of his great contemporaries, Harriman and Hill. They were all men who compare favorably with any of the pioneers and empire-builders of modern times, and were as adventurous and commanding as Cortez and Pizarro.

They had prophetic instincts. They visualized the growth of commonwealths and the rise of cities and the marvelous expansion of trade and commerce. They spread their network of rails across waste places, into sparsely populated regions, through forests unbroken and mountains grim and forbidding, to tap the potential riches of an undeveloped country.

No great leader of the South has done more to stimulate its rapid progress from a state of stagnation and depression which succeeded the Civil War, than the man who, through a long life, guided the steady unfolding of the L. & N. system, which became, under his management, the main artery in the commercial development of the vast region which is today richer than the entire Union was in 1861.

Mr. Smith, as a business man, was of a tough and tenacious fibre.
He was hard, aggressive, and even violent in pushing forward the schemes which were born and incubated in his fertile brain. Perhaps such characteristics were essential to success in the period in which his pioneering work was done. He was compelled to cope with many strong and unscrupulous men and forces, and any yielding on his part might have negatived all his efforts. But he had, when the office door closed behind him, a soft and winning side which his family and friends loved, and which bound them to him with hooks of steel.

His plans were large, his motives right, his success phenomenal, and he has left as his monument a great transportation system which is as necessary to the life of the South commercially as the church is religiously.

The people of Kentucky, in particular, owe a debt of gratitude to his memory. He seemed to take a peculiar interest and pride in pushing the rails back into the undeveloped regions of the state, tapping its vast mineral deposits, and bringing new life, prosperity and opportunity to the people of the mountains, so long cut off from the current of modern progress, without educational advantages or the conveniences and comforts which only railway extension could endow them with.

His name will always be associated with the era of expansion which is now in full tide in Eastern Kentucky, and which is changing so rapidly the character of that vast region whence the highest type of Americanism is to emerge.

FIFTY YEARS TO REORGANIZE.

There is no need for hurry on the part of the Democrats in bringing about a reorganization of their scattered forces. No matter how perfectly their ranks might be aligned they could accomplish nothing in the face of the Republican sentiment that now dominates the country. The outrageous record of their party in the last eight years of misrule must be lived down, and the people must be given a chance to forget, before the voting strength of Democracy will command any serious attention. Meanwhile Republicans are not going to let the grass grow under their feet. On March 4th the party starts on a campaign of achievement under the leadership of Mr. Harding that will win the confidence of the people and continue their control of national affairs for many years in the future.

NEW YORK BILL FORCES WIFE TO SUPPORT MATE.

Threat to "Go Home to Mother" Is Felony Under Terms of New Measure.

Albany, N. Y., March 3. — Virtually every state in the Union has made it a law that a man must support his wife. New York state, however, is the first to attempt legislation that will require a woman to support her husband.

In a bill introduced in the Legislature by Assemblyman Edward Everett, St. Lawrence, this provision is made, and he adds, "It's a good bill."
Mr. Everett would make it a felony for any wife to abandon her husband or even threaten to run away and leave him. No more threats of "I'll go home to mother" if it passes.

The bill, which is in the shape of an amendment to the criminal code and the domestic relations law, provides that a wife who has once assumed the obligation of supporting her husband shall retain that duty till "death do them part."

If she has sufficient of worldly goods the burden of support is to fall on her in any event under terms of the bill.

an dthen did so through the Lever act.

Promised to keep the country out of

New York Letter

By Lucy Jeanne Price

New York. — Back in the days when the gold brick was in its prime, the cartoonists of New York and other population centers had a very merry time depicting the straits of the innocent outlander who came on a visit to the big city and exchanged good village money for a handsome package of lead or papers. Never was it admitted or even dreamed that a New Yorker himself could fail to penetrate the miles of the con man. But here in this over-sophisticated year off 1921, a New York woman has had a man arrested for selling her a restaurant while he never existed and never expects to exist. His method was the simple one of advertising a restaurant for sale, at 108 West 40th street. Whereupon Miss Hilda Stranenna read the ad., took her little $2,000 and paid it to the "Broker," Edward Jonas. Fortieth street being a pretty central, convenient place to walk to, Miss Stranenna took time afterwards to stroll around to see her property. It was then she discovered that the hole in the doughnut has nothing whatever on the address she had bought, so far as restaurant occupancy is concerned.

Letters are now being taken from this country to Berlin and other points in the Rhine district of Germany by steamer plus airplane. The steamer ship Mount Clay, which left New York the other day, inaugurates the service. The steamer will take the mail to Cuxhaven, and there it will be transferred to the German hangar an d taken on its way by plane.

The foreign trade of the United States last year broke all records, according to O. K. Davis, Secretary of the National Foreign Trade Council. Our exports amounted to more than $8,000,000,000, and our imports to more than $5,000,000,000. "The rapid change drop from a period of apparently unlimited prosperity in our home mar-

ACT QUICKLY

Do the right thing at the right time. Act quickly in time of danger. In time of kidney danger, Doan's Kidney Pills are most effective. Ask your neighbor.

Plenty of Maysville evidence of their worth. Fred Dresel, proprietor tailor shop, 1238 East Second street, Maysville, says: "I am glad of the opportunity to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. I was troubled with inflammation of the bladder and annoyance from my kidneys. When passing the secretions they burned terribly and often bordered on a stoppage. I had severe aching pains across the small of my back which greatly interfered with my duties. I was telling a friend how my kidneys acted and he advised me to get a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at Wood & Son's Drug Store. I began taking Doan's and they gave me prompt relief. Doan's did me lots of good and I know they are an excellent remedy."

Mr. Dresel gave the above statement February 6, 1908, and on November 22, 1920, he added: "I think just as highly of Doan's Kidney Pills today as I did when I gave my former recommendation many years ago. My cure has been a lasting one." Price 60 cents, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Dresel had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

kets has not been without its beneficial results," said Mr. Davis. "It has brought home to the American people in a striking manner the value of foreign markets and the national service of foreign trade. International trade conditions will improve in 1921 if there is a clear understanding and honest recognition of fundamental economic conditions and the meeting of those conditions by American producers and traders generally. That is one reason it is of such importance to have a big attendance at our convention in Cleveland next May. We are going to get right down then, to what we can do to meet these conditions and to meet them as quickly as possible."

February, usually a passive, unenergetic month in theatrical producing circles, this year saw eleven new productions before its 28th day. And nothing but a lack of theaters limits the first nights to eleven. In spite of this shortage of buildings, several legitimate theaters on Broadway will be given over within the next few weeks to moving pictures. Some of the pictures to move into these new homes of the film are decidedly elaborate affairs and, so to speak, "high-brow" affairs. "The Four Horsemen of Apocalypse," "The Queen of Sheba" and a screen version of Mark Twain's "Connecticut Yankee" are among them.

A seeming case for the psychologists exists in the killing of a police detective by Charles T. Davis. The neighbors and tradesmen, even the Italian boy who shined his shoes, out in the district of his Brooklyn home, are stunned by the fact that "our Mr. Davis," as he was to the wheel neighborhood, is the prosperous business man who coldly shot down a detective who came to his office to inquire about a stolen automobile. They have tried to figure out how it could happen, but they just fall back on shaking their heads and saying, "OUR Mr. Davis! He never could have done anything wrong." But Davis himself called his lawyer immediately after the shooting and told what he had done, coolly and concisely.

These first days of the visit here of Ignace Jan Paderewski have been sad ones for his friends and devotees, and must have been so to the musician, himself. For he has made his position definite as regards his abandonment of the concert stage. "I will not play again," he has stated. "Compose? Possibly, but never play." Since May 9, 1917, he has not touched the piano even for his own pleasure. His every other interest has been given over for his work for Poland. "Yes, I felt the sacrifice of my art keenly," he said. "For years I lived in an atmosphere of dreams. It was hard to emerge into a world of cold facts. But I believe that art must always be secondary to patriotism."

LUCY JEANNE PRICE. KENTUCKY NURSE WEDS. BANKER, FORMER SOLDIER. Flemingsburg, Ky., March 3. — A romance begun when Miss Mabel Beckett nursed Russell L. Mock, Cleveland banker-soldier, back to health at Fort Sheridan, Ill., during the war, resulted in their marriage here Wednesday at the home of the bride's parents in this city. They left by automobile for Cleveland. Mrs. Mock is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George T. Beckett.

SILK WEEK IS CELEBRATED BY MERCHANTS HERE

Local Stores and Shops Offer Special Bargains in Silk Goods This Week in Nation Wide Celebration.

In celebration of the four thousand five hundred and sixty-first anniversary of the discovery of silk by the Chinese Empress Si-ling-chi in 2640 B. C., National Silk Week was inaugurated here this week. Local merchants, from department store proprietors to the owners of the smaller individual shops that handle merchandise in which silk is used in production, are featuring silk and silk products for the entire week. Not only here but throughout the entire country this idea is being carried out. In China at a specified time each year, the Chinese commemorate the memory of Si-ling-chi who is known as the "Goddess of the Silkworm." The ceremonies are extremely picturesque and quaint in China but in the practical United States the form assumes a distinctly commercial aspect which is however enlivened by the delight of women—a styles show.

Man of the latest American styles creations shown at the recent International Silk Exposition in New York will be shown here in replica either as window displays or upon the forms of beautiful girl models. It will be the first public showing of these styles outside of New York and gives National Silk Week much the aspect of a spring styles salon.

Local merchants anticipate that this silk week will give a remarkable impetus to the spring and summer buying season and have laid their plans accordingly to afford their customers the best possible opportunity to see all that is new in everything into the manufacture of which silk enters, which means a very wide range of articles for men as well as for women. One big department store in New York varied uses to which the fabric and its form that silk had to be feature in four of its divisions because of the products are put.

From the time when in Rome silk sold for its actual weight in gold and was worn only by royalty, to today when it is within the reach of the average person as to price and is universally worn, it is a long jump but has been accomplished through the ingenuity of American manufacturers who have succeeded in so perfecting process of production that silk is now an economy instead of an extravagance as it was first considered.

The United States leads the world in the manufacture of silk with an annual output of approximately $715,000,000, buying seventy per cent of the raw silk produced in the Orient and Italy and producing every conceivable articles in which silk can be advantageously used.

It is doubtful if there has ever been in this city a better rounded display of merchandising that appeals to women than has been prepared locally for this week. From silk of satin slippers, lingerie, hosiery, to dresses, wraps, hats and gloves with scores of other accessories in between, the assortments are strikingly complete. Colors and designs are novel and beautiful but not bizarre and the lines of the newest costumes are gracefully artistic and lack the somewhat startling semi-cubist effects of past seasons. Both arbiters and critics of styles have unanimously agreed that this is to be distinctly a silk season and the retail merchandisers are apparently taking full advantage of that decision.

INJUNCTION GRANTED TO PROTECT EMPLOYEES.

A preliminary injunction was issued yesterday by Federal Judge Cochran against the defendants in the case of the Houston, Stanwood & Gamble Manufacturing Company, Covington, against Frank Koester and twentythree other defendants restraining the latter from using force, violence or threatening and abusive language towards any person employed by the company.

This order will stand until further instructions of the court are issued. The court explains that this order does not prevent the defendants from going picket duty and carrying banners, and that the defendants may interview the employees. The complainant company is required to furnish bond of $3,000.

More than twenty restaurants in Greater New York are owned and run by Chinese.

JARS CARRIED BY CHURCH FOLK HELD ONLY SYRUP.

Hopkinsville. — Viewing a stream of men and women pouring out of the parsonage of the Rev. Thomas Chapman, pastor of the Universalist church each carrying a bucket, fruit jar or bottle, Chief of Police Roper stopped a Sunday school superintendent and investigated the contents of one of the receptacles. But it was merely cane syrup, a barrel of which Dr. Chapman had received from South Georgia.

GAME WARDEN PROSECUTES "CROWNED CRANE" KILLER.

Samuel J. Martin, District Game Warden of the Eighth District, returned to Lexington last evening from Flemingsburg, where he was called by the killing of a "crowned crane," a rare bird which had been killed near Turkey Run, Fleming county.

He caused the arrest of J. A. Lyons, one of the leading citizens of that county, on a charge of having the bird in his possession. Lyons testified that the bird was given to him by a boy who found it dead with a broken wing in a creek. Mr. Lyons, who resides at Mt. Carmel, took the bird to Flemingsburg and exhibited it to a number of business men. It measured six feet from tip to tip of its wings.

KILLS FATHER AND WOUNDS BROTHER IN SHOOTING SCRAPE

Breathitt County Is Scene of Shooting Scrape in Which One Is Shot Fatally.

Jackson, Ky., March 3. — James Spicer was instantly killed and his son Floyd Spicer, was wounded when they were attacked by Ollie Spicer, another son, and Hiram Spencer, on Cane Creek, Breathitt county, six miles from here, about 10 o'clock tonight. The two Spicers, father and son, were returning to their home on Cane Creek from Jackson when their assailants approached them, opening fire without warning.

The elder Spicer fell fatally shot, and Floyd Spicer was wounded in the interchange of shots which followed. Ollie Spicer and Spencer fled to the nearby hills, where they mounted guard, not permitting the removal of the dead man's body. Officers here were notified and a posse was formed to go into the mountains after the murderers.

KENTUCKY STOCKMEN PLAN CONSOLIDATION OF ORGANIZATIONS

Purebred Live Stock To Be Stressed By Proposed Consolidation of All the Kentucky Organizations.

Louisville, March 4. — Steps to promote the raising of purebred live stock in Kentucky by the merger of all existing associations into the Kentucky Pure-Bred Live Stock Association were taken Wednesday at the association's annual session at the hotel Henry Watterson.

A committee appointed by C. E. Marvin, president, is expected to enter into negotiations with the organizations represented with regard to joining the state association. It was proposed that the payment of the membership fee any organization would entitle a breeder to membership in all.

The intention of the organization is to strengthen the industry in Kentucky by offering prizes and premiums by promoting pure-bred pig and calf clubs among boys and girls, and by distributing information about proper methods of breeding and selling.

Committees were appointed to confer with the Bourbon Stockyards Company today with regard to marketing conditions and with committee of the Kentucky State Fair concerning premiums. A banquet at the hotel at 6:30 o'clock last night marked the close of the session.

Election of directors resulted in the choice of the following men: R. H. Lillard, Lawrenceburg; B. A. Thomas, Shelbyville; W. R. Moorman, Glen Dean; L. L. Hagin, Lexington; J. W. Mayes, Hickman; W. B. Turley, Richmond; William Reid, Owensboro, and J. Lewis Lettlerie, Jefferson county.

The committee in charge of plans for the merger includes: Louis M. LeBus, Cynthiana, president of the Shorthorn Association; John Null, of Bardonia, Holstein Association; A. D. Bradshaw, Danville, Aberdeen-Angus Association; P. B. Gaines, Carrollton, Jersey Association; H. C. Marksley, Shelbyville; Louis Lee Hagin; Lexington, and R. D. Courtney, representing swine and sheep breeders.

SUNDAY SCHOOL WORKERS MUST REMEMBER BANQUET.

Sunday school workers are asked to keep in mind the Sunday school luncheon and conference of workers to be held at the First Baptist church Saturday, March 19th. Remember this is for all schools of all denominations. There are over forty Sunday schools in Maysville and Mason county. With the pastor, superintendent and a leading worker from each school present there will be an array of Christian workers that should surely be able to plan something big for our city and county. Many of the smaller schools in the county are not in session during the winter months. Let not this keep their representatives from attending this meeting. The Mason County Sunday School Association is very desirous of getting in vital touch with every school, and with every community where there should be a school. If you are one invited don't fail to accept and be present.
